

Responsible Technology Advice

Summary

We provide advice throughout the full software lifecycle from planning to developing and using technology.

We have extensive experience in developing software and web applications, performing ethical requirement analysis, writing specification documents, designing and developing software, implementing legal criteria, testing and verifying software and validating legal requirements are met.

Advice

Our advice includes:

- I. Giving advice on planning to develop or buy an application
- II. Ethical requirement analysis
- III. Legal and technical specification documents
- IV. Designing and development methodology
- V. Implementing software according to legal criteria
- VI. Testing and verifying application or device
- VII. Validate application or device for legal requirements